

SYSTEMS AND METHODS
FOR SHARING EXCESS PROFITS

Abstract of the Disclosure

Systems and methods for trading commodity, an item or instrument are provided. The market prices and trading may be monitored to detect a spike in the market 5 price or artificially high market price. Excess profits resulting from the sale at an artificially high market price may be distributed to market participants based upon the participant's trading record in the market or upon some other suitable method.